

A NEW TRIPLE HELIX APPROACH FOR REGIONAL INNOVATION POLICY?

Hugues JEANNERAT,
University of Neuchâtel

Olivier CREVOISIER
University of Neuchâtel

FROM TECHNOLOGICAL TO CULTURAL, SOCIAL AND SOCIETAL INNOVATIONS

1. Technological innovation

- from post-war to post-Fordist global competition

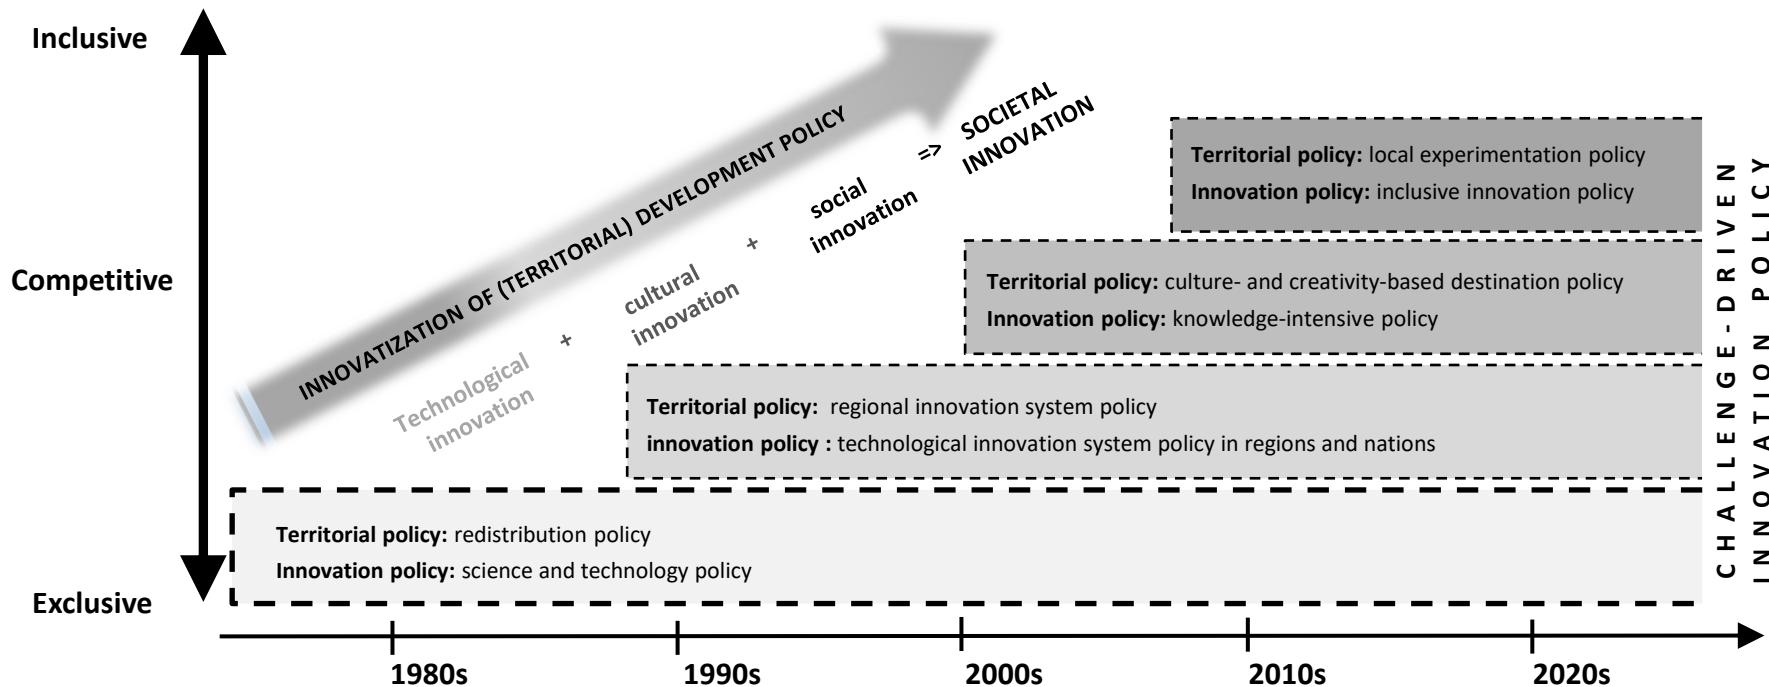

2. Cultural innovation

- from product(ion) to knowledge and creativity

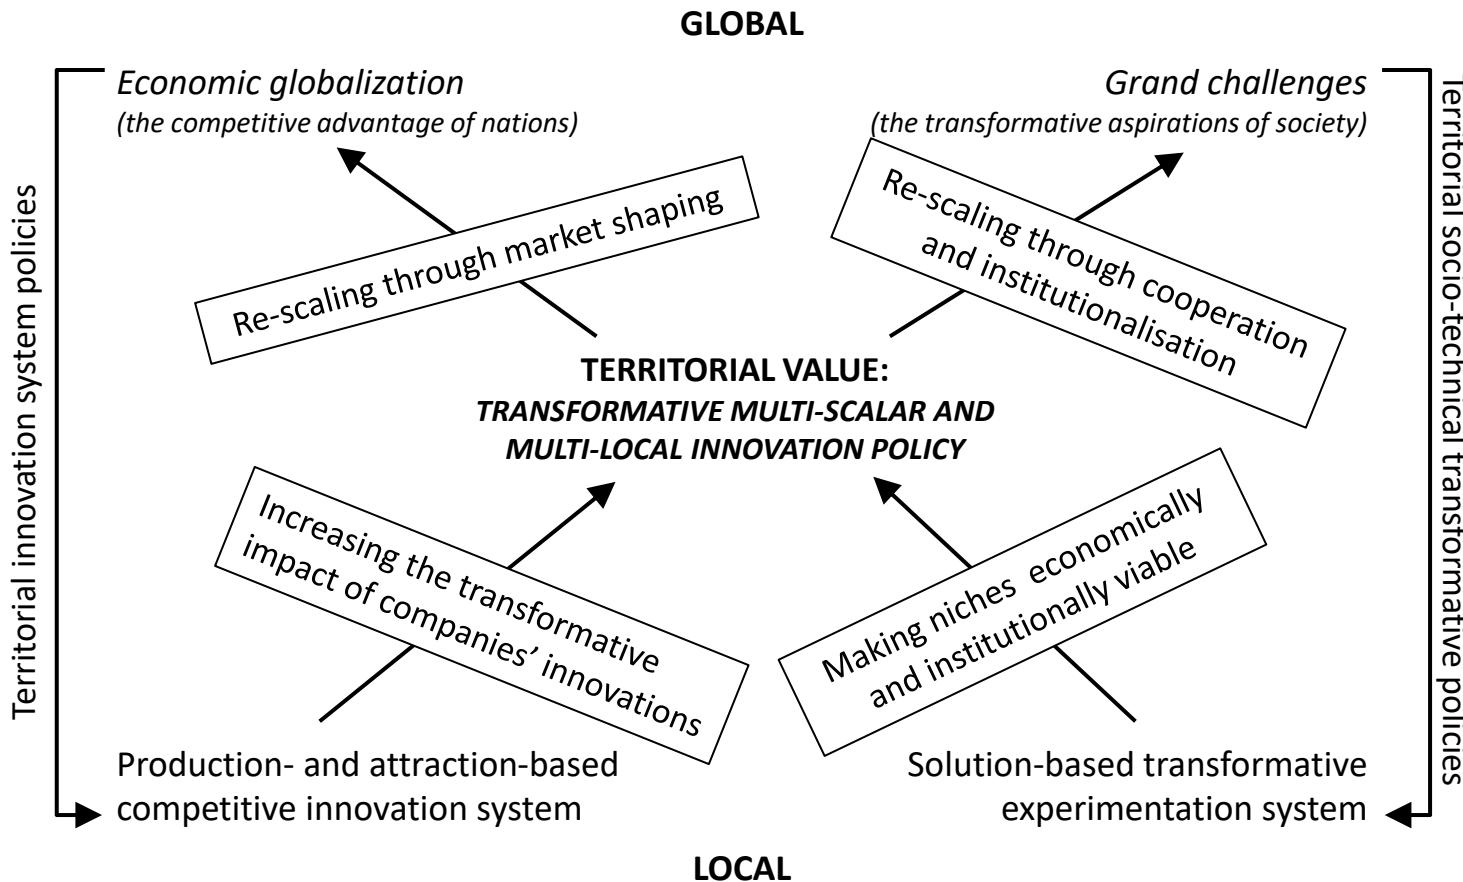

3. Social and societal innovation

- from competitive to transformative innovation policy

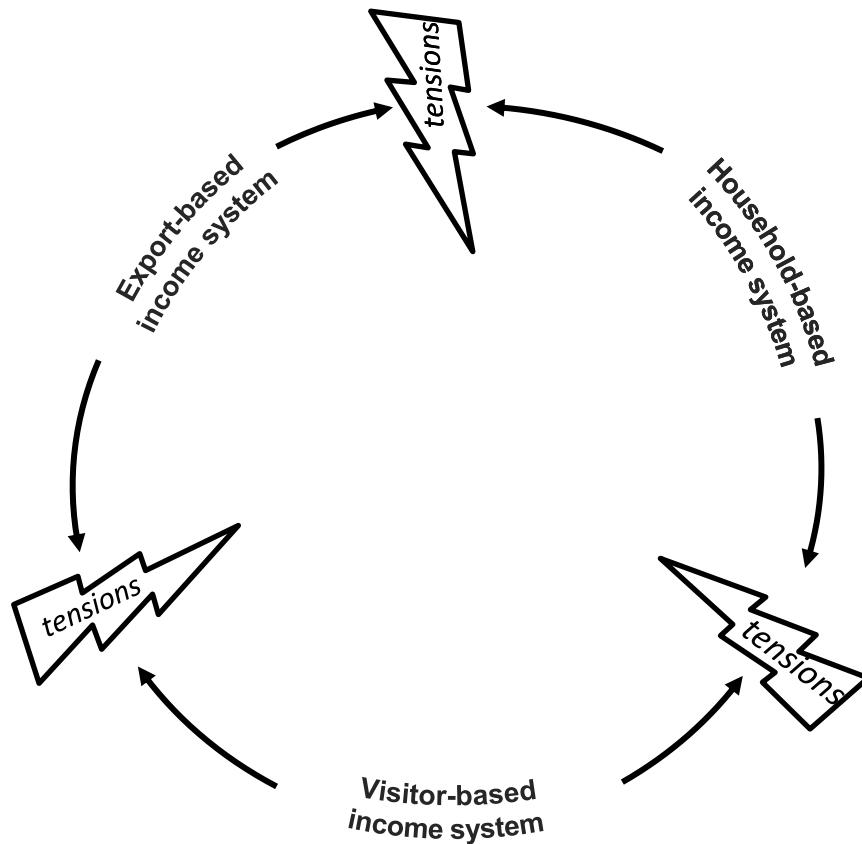

THE 'INNOVATIZATION' OF TERRITORIAL POLICY

Two approaches in tension

Territorial value through enlarged anchoring milieus

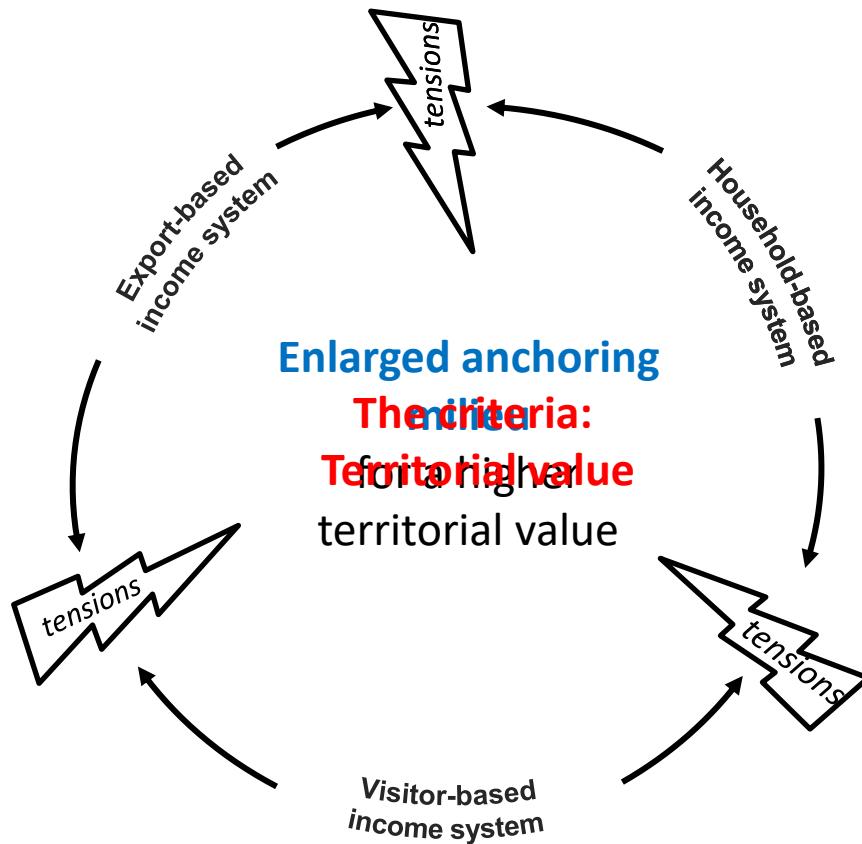

An example of a multicontributive project

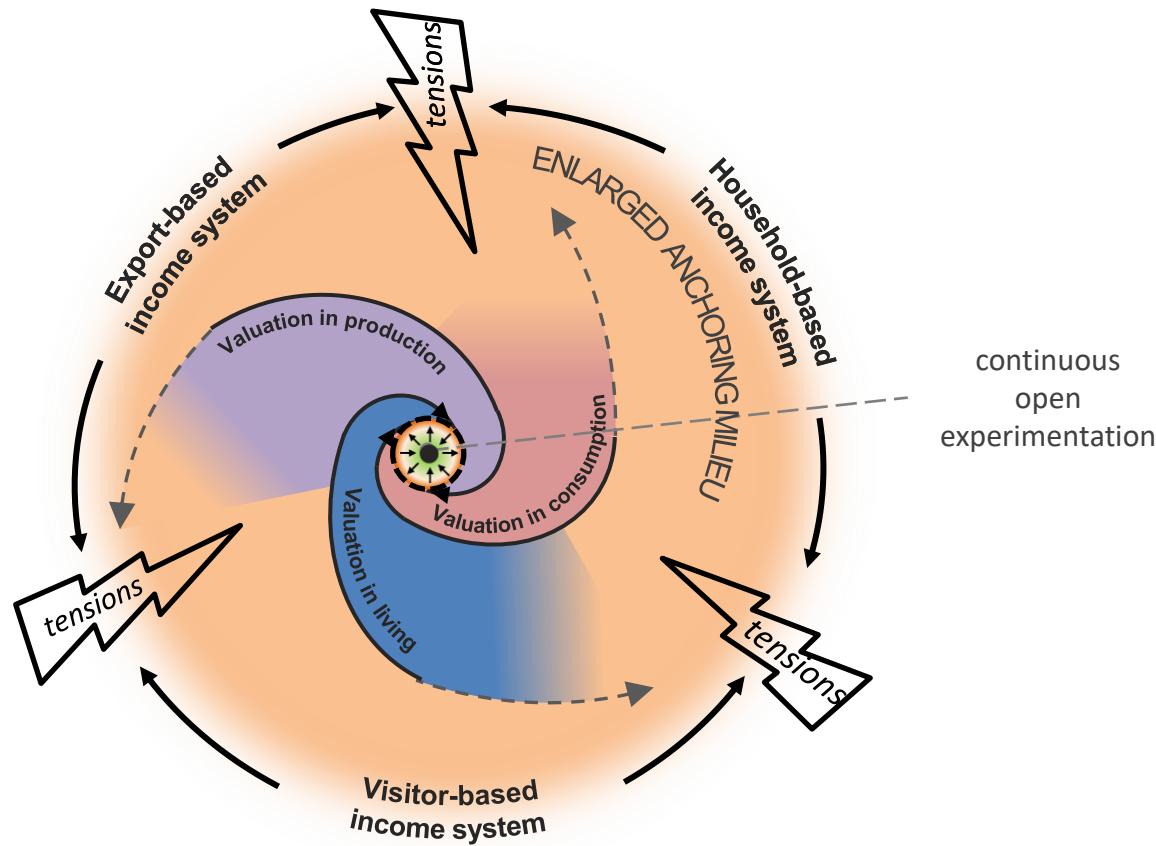

The museum, workshop, tea-room, boutique... of the chocolate maker «Camille Bloch»

Territorial value through enlarged anchoring milieus

Territorial value through enlarged anchoring milieus

Conclusion: multi-local and multi-scalar policy mix

Co-innovation

Entrepreneurship

Sensemaking

Institutionalizing

→ Towards an increased role of SHS

